Re: Bó Lane Gallery/ Park Shopping Centre Development

To Whom it May Concern,

The TU Dublin School of Creative Arts would like to confirm its support for the installation of a Gallery Wall and Digital Screen on the proposed new street connecting Grangegorman and Prussia Street, as part of its collaboration with the Park Shopping Centre Development. This initiative is a development of the current successful collaboration at “Bó Lane” which showcases student artwork inspired by Dublin 7’s rich history including JFK’s visit to Arbour Hill Cemetery in 1963, representations of the people of Stoneybatter from the 1911 census, Vikings hanging out with hipsters and of course, the old Dublin Cattle Market.

The School has approximately 600 students actively producing work throughout the year and the proposed Gallery and Screen will be used exclusively to represent the creative and artistic work of these students. The School is committed to managing and curating installations and delivering a dynamic and exciting programme of exhibitions (a minimum of 2 per year). The Park Shopping Centre has committed to supporting the cost of these installations through an annual material/ print budget. The agreement will run for a period of 5 years from the opening of the new development with the option for the parties to renegotiate subsequently.

We are delighted to be part of this initiative and believe that in addition to enhancing the development through this artistic and cultural installation, the Bó Lane Gallery will play a crucial role in connecting the university with the wider local community.

Yours Sincerely,

Kieran Corcoran
